rubén alcolea

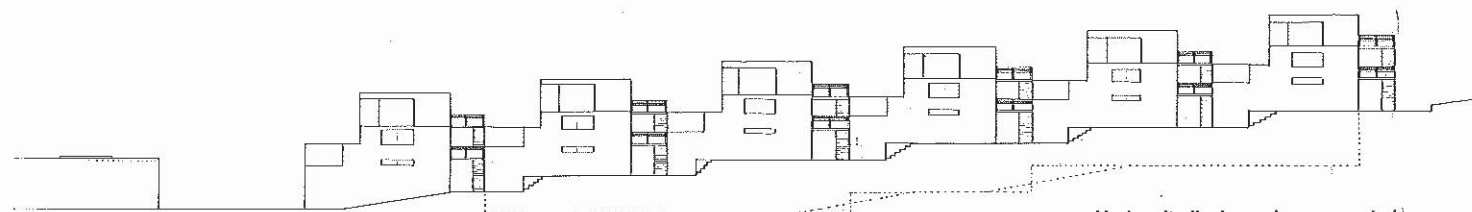

El solar como un mirar hacía la ladera. La trama enérgica se implanta rotunda, y se rompe para dar lugar a las viviendas, la plaza, el espacio público. Y es ese fluir del espacio compartido, entrometiéndose por los corredores, y haciendo de la estancia un sinfín de recodos, capitaneados por las dotaciones. Los usos públicos se establecen en la base, y confieren la presencia necesaria. La antigua trama queda absorbida y se complementan mutuamente, estableciendo las relaciones entre sus calles interiores y el mirar de sus fachadas.

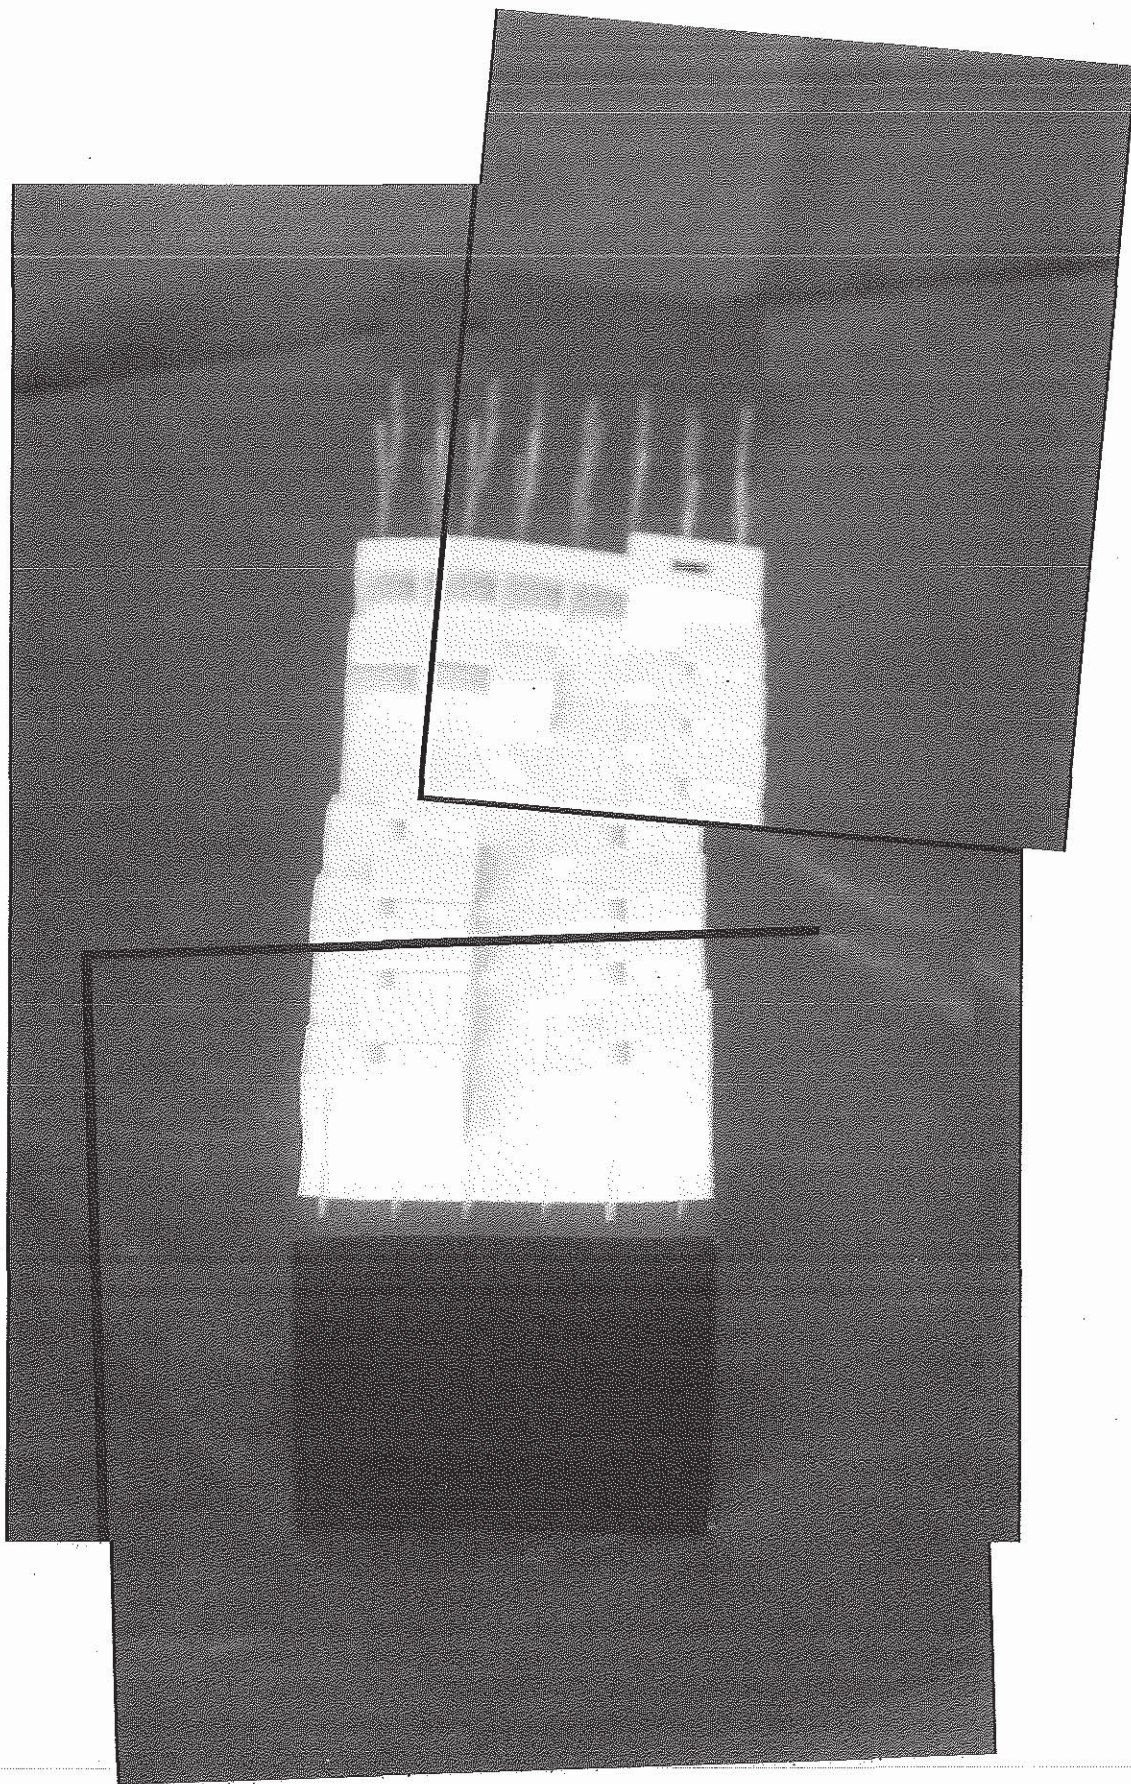

The site seems to look down the hillside. The vigorous fabric is implemented with rotundity and breaks apart to give way to the housing structures, square and public space. It is this flow of shared space that is placed between the corridors and creates a space with twists and turns that are presided by the services. The public functions are firmly established at the base of the complex. The pre-existing fabric is absorbed and mutually complemented, fostering a relationship between interior streets and elevations.
