edificio de oficinas en pamplona office building in pamplona

En un solar de esquina en pleno ensanche de la ciudad de Pamplona, proponemos la edificación de un edificio de oficinas para alquilar, conscientes de que la resolución funcional es un mero trámite y que la estructura no presentará grandes dificultades. Sin embargo, el énfasis del proyecto estará en la resolución exquisita de la fachada, su relación con la ciudad, su capacidad de generar volumen y su desarrollo constructivo.

La elección, por tanto, de los materiales, y su tratamiento constructivo serán los caminos de reflexión propuestos para construir finalmente algo que en apariencia no es más que una fachada.

The project is for an office building, with offices for rent, on a corner on outskirts of Pamplona. We are aware that the functional solution is simple and so is the structure. However, the emphasis in this project will be on the exquisite design of the facade, its relationship to the city, its capacity to generate volume and its constructive development.

Therefore, the choice of materials and building system will be the key factors involved in finally building something that in appearance is no more than a facade.

La elección de la ciudad no es determinante para los objetivos pretendidos en este proyecto. La funcionalidad, un campo de fútbol perfectamente reglamentado, tampoco se presume como generadora de una tipología.

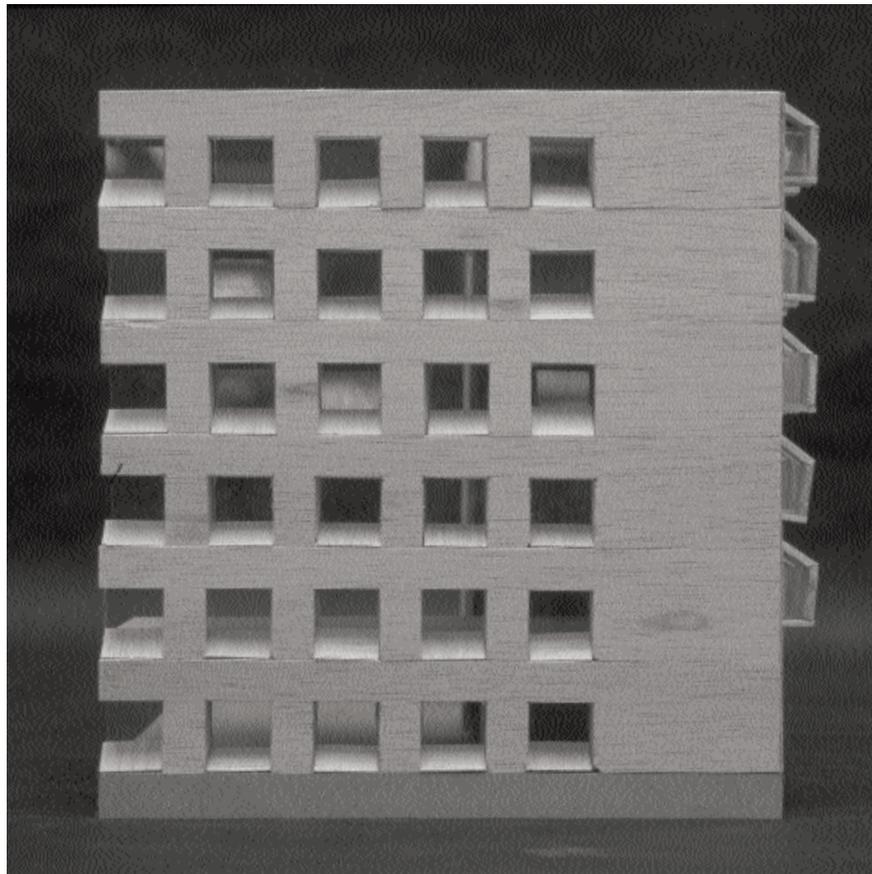

Por el contrario, la elección estructural, aquí sí resultará clave en el resultado final de la edificación. La importancia de la sección, que es casi en estado puro estructura, es el argumento sobre el que se propone reflexionar, como elemento generador de forma y función en este caso.

The city itself is not decisive for the objectives of this project. Neither is the functionality, a perfectly reglementary football pitch, of decisive importance.

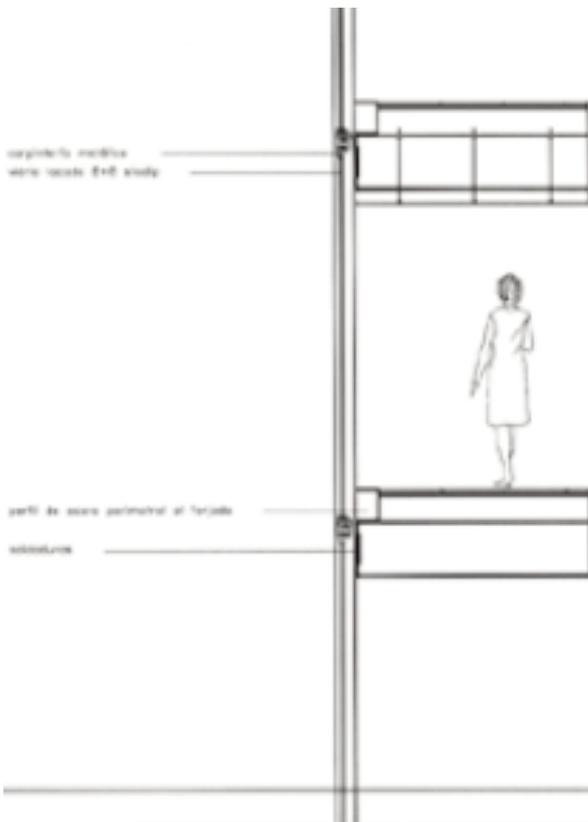

What will be of the utmost importance for the final result will be the structure proposed. The importance of the section, which is practically pure structure, is the focal point in the case, since it will be generating both form and function.
